"If you had 'nat faith, sure," replied he, "I could tell you wao."

"How so," said Charles "if I had faith."

"Why, yes," said the wroty cleric, "your Majesty might say to this Mousbran he thou removed into that See."

A Corkonian, on being asked at breakfast how he came by 'that black eye,' said - 'he slept on his face.'

When a man wants money or assistance, the world, as a rule, is very obliging, and - lets him work it.

The more a woman's waist is shaped like an hour glass, the more it shows us that her sands of life are running out.

Little Herby asked his mother, what 'blood relations' meant. She explained to him that it signified near relatives, etc. After thinking a moment, he said, "Then, mother, you must be the bloodiest relation I've got."

Sleep is called "death's counterfeit," and this is a case in which the counterfeit is generally preferred to the genuine.
